Extensive Evaluation Proves Quality of City Schools

As a result of an extensive evaluation conducted by Mr. Brickell, it was learned that the norm for the city schools was above the national norm.

Plans were also discussed to allow Seniors with a "B" or better average in a class to choose whether or not they wished to take the exam. Mr. Brickell said that schools needed to find a more accurate measure of a student's knowledge than the traditional semester exams.

Chats with Mr. Brickell are surprisingly infarmal.

Mr. Hill discusses the dress code regulations.

A meeting of the "Big Three": Mr. Hill, Mr. Themides, and Mr. Sykes.

Mr. Hill Improves Student-Faculty Relations

Mr. Hill chuckles while waiting to examine the ring samples.

As principal of Bayside High School, Mr. Letcher Hill spent his days maintaining the tranquility of the school. He was primarily concerned with student-teacher relations which included several projects such as his participation in the establishment of a dress code pleasing to both the student body and the Administration. Continually he was called upon to advise the various clubs and classes concerning their different activities — a relationship which aided in the develoopement of participation on all sides.

Mr. Themides Adds To BHS Spirit

Assistant Principal of Student Affairs, Mr. Themides, faithfully spent the year completing the bond between students and teachers. He also added tremendously to the spirit of the school by his enthusiasm for all BHS activities. Thus the understanding he achieved between students and faculty came only through dedication and involvement.

. Mr. Themides awoits the day's avalanche of problems.

Preparing individual schedules is one of Mr. Themides many duties.

Mr. Themides is one of the many wha wore tennis shoes the week af the Maury gome.

Mr. Sykes telephones for an urgently needed substitute.

Mr. Sykes Coordinates Faculty

Mr. Sykes looks over his supply of used books.

Often seen in the bookstore or in the halls, Mr. Sykes organized the curriculum and Provided substitute teachers. Acting as coordinator of faculty affairs, student teachers received many of the benefits of Bayside. His efforts helped to make 1971 a successful year.

A moment of relaxation is enjoyed by Mr. Sykes.

English Teachers Urge Student Involvement

Into an effort to increase interest in the curriculum, the English teachers placed their emphasis on student participation. Specifically, every teacher acted as the catalyst for discussions derived from the topics in the curriculum. In this manner, every student was offered the chance to express his views, and the teacher as well as the student could benefit from the ideas presented.

A-L-M Furthers Language Proficiency

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Rodriguez, the Foreign Language department emphasized the development of four skills vitally important to the assimilation of another language; listening, comprehending, speaking, and writing. Thus the aim of each teacher was to enhance the students' linguistic abilities through the use of the A-L-M series which has been used in the German and French curriculum and was initiated in Spanish this year. Also, BHS received two new members in this department: they were Mrs. Delgado, who taught French and Spanish, and Mr. Narvaez, who taught German.

Social Studies Department Increases Students' Awareness

The Social Studies curriculum provided students with a good background in American and World History, Government, Geography, and the Social Sciences. For the first time BHS also offered the advanced placement tests in these fields. Thus, under the supervision of the Social Studies department, Bayside students became more aware of the conditions in the world around them.

Math Curriculum Reaches Students Of Varying Abilities

Meeting the needs of Bayside students, the Math department, directed by Mr. Germershausen, aimed the curriculum to involve students of various abilities. Too, Bayside welcomed Mr. Bolster, Mrs. Butler, and Mr. Ellenbrand to relieve the burden of additional students. Finally, in an effort to maintain status with schools across the country, the National Math Test was offered to select students in the upper-level courses. This standardized test enabled the department to see if the Math curriculum at BHS was adequately preparing the students.

Experimentation Improves Effectiveness Of Science Courses

Bombarded by various charts, formulas, numbers, and facts, Bayside offered to all interested students courses which revealed the fascinating world of science. Under the guidance of Mr. Haase, Introductory Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics allowed every student the opportunity to participate in experiments which showed the actual laws of nature rather than merely to be aware of them through lectures. In the same vein, with the idea of achieving such a goal, three new teachers were added: Mr. Adair, Miss Griest, Mr. Weaver.

Physical Education Works for Mental-Physical Balance

Mr. South
P.E. 9, 11 - 12

Often discussed by the Greeks was the maintenance of a balance between the mental and physical worlds. With a similar aim, the Physical Education department worked to improve the well-being of BHS students. This plan involved not only sports and calisthenics, but also classroom instruction on the subjects of health, mental illness, and drug abuse. Driver Education was also included in the curriculum.

Music Acts as Bridge Between Participants

Perhaps only through the realm of music can all the barriers between people be broken and a common bond be constructed. In this way, Mr. Rule and Mrs. Whitlock guided their students through a special curriculum not restricted by lectures, but broadened by the total involvement of the students.

Six Weeks Projects Provide In-depth Study of Art

While seeking to express themselves through various media, the students of the Art Department found satisfaction in their sundry six-weeks projects which allowed them to pursue a particular field of interest in depth. In the same vein, both Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Smith worked to increase the enthusiasm of the students and their level of achievement.

Home Economics Strives For Practicality

Basic homemaking techniques were the matters of concern in the Home Economics Department. Mrs. Thompson, the department head, and Mrs. Naylor directed each student's work toward efficiency in sewing, cooking, interior decoration, and child care. Kitchen units, sewing machines, and several well-furnished rooms aided interested pupils in gaining homemaking experience.

Counselors Offer Students Reassurance

Each day counselors were confronted with the many problems that troubled BHS students from September till June. Their endeavors drew them into the Bayside community, and their assistance provided reassurance during the difficult days of testing and selecting vocations and colleges. Thus they served as centers of information and direction as the students prepared for the future.

Student Interaction Creates Oneness

Bracing themselves for a long days work, BHS students reluctantly awaited the opening of school. Once the daily schedule began, their participation in student activities grew. Lunchtime created the perfect atmosphere for gossiping and studying. Working and playing with friends proved to have a lasting effect on the minds of the students.

This year's Homecoming was the most outstanding in the history of Bayside. For the first time, the Marlins won their football game, defeating the Kellam Knights. Jane Whitmore supervised the entire evening's production, starting with the parade of floats and Homecoming Court; going on through the game, the crowning of Queen Karen Early, and the awarding Honestate first prize for their float; and ending with the Homecoming Dance. The entire evening's activities gave all students of Bayside many happy memories.

A Christmas Collage: Big Production of Thespians

As part of their continuing dramatic experimentation, the Bayside Thespians put on their own creation, A Christmas Collage. Borrowing passages from the works of such people as Francis Cardinal Spellman, Hans Christian Anderson, J. D. Salinger, Rod Sterling, Dylan Thomas, and Frank Jacobs, the players presented Christmas in all its varied themes and brought to life the printed word. Music, too, played its part in the production. The Collage ably demonstrated the great range of Thespian talent.

"Faun" Plays for Sixth Annual Queen Mariner Dance

Sponsored by the yearbook staff, the 6th annual Queen Mariner Dance was a complete success. Representing the school were Mickey MacKinnon, Melany Stephenson, Jo Moore, Pam Nester, Tricia Todd, Dorothy Herring, Helen Sazio, and Page Jennings. Mickey MacKinnon was crowned Queen Mariner by Mr. Themides and presented a bouquet of roses. The dance itself rocked to the music of "Faun."

Students, Faculty Aid Community

One of this year's most memorable projects aimed at community involvement centered around the Red Cross Bloodmobile. All those willing and able among the faculty and the students gave a pint of blood for the use of their fellow citizens, and the significant turn-out showed Bayside's desire to help.

The SCA Variety Show proved to be another successful project. Talent galore and entertainment for all made this endeavor an asset of BHS.

SCA Sponsors Faculty Game With Junior High

In order to raise money for an SCA Scholarship, the SCA sponsored a basketball game between the faculty of Bayside Junior and Bayside Senior High Schools. The game was won by the Junior High school but the Senior High still claimed a victory as the game provided the money necessary to finance the scholarship.

In order to reward those who put forth great efforts to attain an academic zenith, two honorable distinctions were made in the student body of Bayside. First of all the school named two members of each class to the Scholastic Achievement Team in recognition of high academic standards and scholastic excellence. Secondly, the Valedictorian, Karin Lynn, and Salutatorian, Mary Solterer, of the Senior Class culminated their high school careers with the reception of their honorable titles.

Seniors Are Awarded Scholastic Honors

Throughout a week of marching, campaigning, and an endless array of speakers, the delegates to Boys' and Girls' State learned through experience the full concept of government. All participants agreed that the friends made were a most integral part of the experience. Later in the year, two of Bayside's delegates, Karin Lynn and Lloyd Bohn, were presented with the Optimist Award for their outstanding service to the school and the community.

Seniors Bring New Tradition to Bayside

In an effort to exceed all previous classes, the Class of '71 brought a new tradition to Bayside — the Senior Lounge. Armed with paint and brushes, the Seniors changed Room 601 into a quiet haven from the clamor of underclassmen.

The Seniors, like other classes, sponsored a Halloween collection for UNICEF, a dance, a bonfire, and a spirit chain, but the Crusaders set themselves apart with a calendar sale, the Mr. and Miss Bayside Pageants, the Senior Prom, and finally, the graduation. Money reared its ugly head when the '71ers ordered announcements and paid for their graduation gear. All this made up the best year ever for the departing Seniors.

Kay Jackson Again Heads Class of '72

Bayside High School saw a spirited Junior class when the Marlins won the first of six with a victory over Cox. They entered a float in the Homecoming competition, made a spirit chain for the Norview game, and sponsored the dance after the Kempsville game, the last game of the football season. More than half of the Juniors were involved in taking the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, the PSAT, and the SAT. The biggest success of the year, however, was the long-awaited Ring Dance.

Dynamic Class of '73 Brings New Energy To Bayside

Sophomore students brought a new vitality to Bayside this year. Besides providing a mascot for BHS and sponsoring a Disc Jockey Dance, the tenth-graders plunged into a wide variety of activities, from sports, clubs, and the SCA to normal educational pursuits. The experience they gained proved invaluable as they moved up the scale toward 1973.

Class of '74 Elects Rufus Moseley President

Although the Freshman was split this year by the opening of the new junior high school, the Class of '74 fell easily into the spirit of Bayside. The Frosh, led by Rufus Moseley, sponsored a disc jockey dance, and followed that by several service projects. Eagerly, they looked forward to three more busy years at Bayside.

SCA Makes Appropriate Constitution Revisions

The Bayside High School SCA boosted spirit during the football and basketball season. Homecoming was the focal point of the football season, yet many other spirit oriented projects were undertaken. There were buses to away games and a monument to a successful year in sports, the cemetery for defeated players. The Joy Fund game helped to foster the Spirit of Christmas, and during Christmas vacation the gym floors were refinished. Later in the year the SCA successfully managed to change the dress code. Students adopted a new constitution to make BHS more democratic.

Library Facilities Aid Searching Students

Central concern of the library workers was aiding those students desiring to obtain a book or research information from Bayside's facilities. Also, they worked in cooperation with the librarians in shelving books and generally maintaining order within the library. In their fellow students, the library helpers provided a service essential to Bayside's academic environment.

Checking out books is o routine job for library helpers.

Juniors Strive for Successful April 24th

The Class of '72 completed projects during their Junior year by organizing various interest committees. The Ring Dance in April, being the most important project, required the majority of each member's time and effort. Subcommittees for decorations and refreshments were formed; David Bland managed plans for decorations and Bonnie Clark headed the committee for refreshments. Other class members worked together to plan successful school activities such as dances and bonfires, all sponsored by the Junior Class.

Srs. Start New Tradition — Mr. Bayside Pageant

Climaxing their high school years, the Crusading Seniors set up various committees. The Publicity, Miss Bayside Pageant, Mr. Bayside Pageant, Prom, and Graduation committees were born to fill the gaps in the Seniors' last days with the numerable events that came to be expected of the Class of 1971. Through the committees' careful planning, the Senior spectaculars were completed without a hitch.

Senior Honor Society Sponsors No Particular Reason Dances

As students of demonstrated leadership, cooperation, and academic achievement, members of Bayside's Senior Honor Society represented the very best of the Junior and Senior classes. Each member was initiated during a Tapping Ceremony or the Awards Assembly. The year was full of plans for service projects working toward the betterment of Bayside. The Senior Honor Society ended the year laying the groundwork for future operations.

Junior Honor Society Makes Christmas Stockings For Hospital

As well as making outstonding grades, the Jr. Honor Society members show rore pyromid talents.

The Bayside chapter of the national Junior Honor Society enjoyed one of its busiest years. Pom-poms were sold during the football season, and a doughnut sale also helped increase the treasury. To round out the year, Club members sewed Christmas stockings and gave them to small children in a Tidewater hospital.

BHS Band Enjoys Second Year Under Mr. Rule

The sound of the Bayside Band, conducted by Mr. Rule, resounded throughout the year. The band, acting as both entertainer and cheerleader, was an integral part of the football scene. Its annual winter and spring concerts had splendid turnouts, with the musicians playing a variety of musical styles. All in all, the Bayside Band enjoyed a successful year.

Bayside's Choral Department experienced a very rewarding year. The Girls' Chorus gave four performances and contributed to the fall production of the "Now Sound."

Six performances were given by the Concert Chorus including a Christmas presentation at school and the traditional service at Bayside Baptist Church where they performed the difficult Daniel Pinkham "Sacra Simfonia," accompanied by members of Bayside's band. The Concert Chorus ended their year by performing for Baccalaureate Services and the Graduation ceremony.

Bayside's Madrigals were much in demand this year. During the Christmas season alone, they performed at Military Circle Mall, Adam Thoroughgood House, and had the pleasure of entertaining at the Azalea Gardens Rotunda when Miss USA, Debbie Shelton, lit the giant candle for the Candle-lighting Service. The Madrigals made numberous other engagements and had a very fruitful year.

Yearbook Plans Begin With Summer Workshop

It took more than writing copy, making posters, drawing layouts, and printing photographs, to produce the Bayside Mariner. The Mariner staff taking their inspiration from sponsor Miss Erskine, oversaw the taking of class pictures and engineered the sales campaign. The annual sponsored the Queen Mariner Dance taxed ingenuity and emotions, but proved to be a huge success. However, most of the staff's time went into the million little tasks that produce a superior yearbook.

In an effort to assert its independence, the staff of the Marlin Messenger was able to present to Bayside through its eight issues the extraordinary events of student interest. Significant among the Bayside chronicles were the sports articles covering the Marlins' numerous victories. Finally students contributions in the form of editorials displayed their concern for various important topics of concern to the community.

A new French Club was started this year with Mrs. Greene as sponsor. After the election of a new "Presidente," Diane Devlin, activities committees were formed. The goal of the twice-monthly meetings was to learn more about the past and present culture of France. Activities planned included outings, guest speakers, films, and service projects. Christmas caroling with the French Club of Cox High School gave the members a chance to meet other students with similar interests while having fun. The members of this year's French Club have found it to be an enjoyable and interesting experience.

This year's Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Rodriguez, was a tremendous success. The club members, led by President Nancy Wendt, molded great ideas into prosperous projects, such as the November doughnut sale and the collection of soap-n-Koolaid for soldiers abroad. Cultural activities included singing Spanish Christmas carols and visiting the interesting Columbian ship, Covadonga. All these projects gave the chance to continue their fascinating club.

Art Club Aids Spirit With Fighting Marlin

An interest in art was the only requirement for membership in the Art Club. To begin their year they made posters for the band. Not to be left out of the spirit campaign, the club brought its Fighting Marlin to football games and rolled it around the field during halftime. The judging of Christmas door decorations was another of the club's many projects. To top off its year, the Art Club held its main moneymaking project, The Spring Art Show.

Drama Club Presents "A Christmas Collage"

The Drama Club, with Miss Cobb as its new sponsor, brought its brand of stagecraft back for another year's engagement at Bayside. To help area tourism, the club entertained visiting conventions and auditioned to become the resident troupe at the Sheraton Inn Hotel. The many talents of the members were invaluable to the success of their multifaceted Christmas production, A Christmas Collage. The entertainment they provided made the Seniors' Miss Bayside Pageant a smashing success. The club entered the District One-act Play competition anxious to add another win to its record. Besides putting on the play, Flowers for Algernon, the club carried its innovations still further by staging the poetry of Spoon River Anthology. Such were the creations that graced the Drama Club's most unparalleled year.

Key Club Chooses Sweetheart

The Key Club took this year's theme, Prelude to Progress, to heart and made it work. The club backed the Marlins during the football season by managing the refreshment stands. To polish Bayside's image, the Key Clubbers undertook the task of cleaning up the stadium after football games. In association with the Keyettes, the club sponsored their annual Christmas dance, the Silver Bell Ball. During this gala event, the members bestowed the title of Key Club Sweetheart on Mari-Bea Coles. The club closed its year by sending twenty representatives to the Key Club International Convention.

Keyettes Construct Longest Spirit Chain

"I have this Prablem. I think it all has ta da with what's up here," admits Karen Seipel to Mark Babashanian.

Enthusiasm and ambition comprised the past year for Keyettes. The year began with a membership drive. Keyettes sponsored the Homecoming Spirit Chain and gave otherwise shy students the chance to buy the girl of their choice during their Slave Sale. Then the climax of the year came — Christmas. Keyettes sold Just-a-Notes, spirit links for all basketball games, and candy canes. The annual Silver Bell Ball was held, co-sponsored with the Key Club. Spring found the Keyettes active in many social functions. The Keyettes made their service felt.

Y-Teens Find First Year Busy

Joining the many activities at Bayside, a new club, Chi Omega Y-Teens, led by Janet Ore, began the year with a service project devoted to their aiding the SPCA with newspapers and food as well as their adopting a dog. One special center of interest was the Y-Teens Beach House, the scene of several pajama parties. In addition, they planned to visit an old folks home regularly as further service to the community. To complete their first year, the Y-Teens held a Mother-Daughter Banquet in the spring.

Honestate Wins First Place in Homecoming Competition

A wealth of projects filled Honestate Tri-Hi-Y's year. Charity baskets for the holiday season, the POW-MIA petitions distribution, and blackboard cleaning were among the services Honestate rendered. Almost as a reward for its enthusiasm, spirit posters, and spirit chains, the club won First Place for its Homecoming Float. The football team received much of Honestate's attention. Mums and yarn dolls were sold; cupcakes were given to the football team at the final game; a banquet was thrown for the team. The list of projects went on to include car washes, doughnut sales, and the annual Springtime Dance.

Iota Sigma Epsilon Serves Community

Iota Sigma Epsilon, headed by Judy Leavitt, moved ahead in the field of service this year. Sales of various kinds occupied much of their time as the members sold Halloween candy in behalf of a home for the aged, sold candy canes to aid children in neighboring hospitals, and peddled light bulbs. Giving counted as much as receiving; accordingly, Iota gave Christmas gifts to a home for the elderly. Iota Sigma Epsilon was a service club performing real service.

ΣΘΔ Sponsors Valentine Dance

Sigma Theta Delta, beginning the year as the Number One Service Club, lived up to its promise. Arousing spirit was Sigma's main concern. Banners and spirit chains were put up. "Booster Buddies" for both the football and basketball teams heightened enthusiasm. During Homecoming, Sigma was honored by placing second in the float competition. Car washes, doughnut sales, and the Valentines Dance swelled the club treasury. Showing their willingness to help others, Sigma made Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets for needy families. The members active participation and good leaders gave Sigma Theta Delta many satisfying successes to go with an unforgettable year.

This year Kappa Sigma Chi-Hi-Yi completed an impressive array of projects. They drove cars in the Homecoming Parade, painted the Club Bulletin Board, attended church regularly, washed chalkboards, played Sigma Theta Delta and Theta Chi in football, and had their first Thanksgiving Food Drive. As its major income projects, the club sponsored a surfing movie, sold Spirit T-Shirts, and had very successful doughnut sales. To conclude their year, Kappa Sig sponsored their dance.

ΘX Chooses Club Sweethearts

For the first time in its existence, Theta Chi Hi-Y entered a float in Homecoming competition. In return for the members' hours of work and creativeness, the float won third place. One of the club's largest service projects was assisting the SCA by painting the basketball court, orienting the gym more toward school spirit. Other service projects included their annual "Turkey Day Safety Check-up" for teachers' cars, supporting an orphan, and Christmas caroling with its sister Tri-Hi-Y Honestate. Theta Chi's major money-making projects included showing football films, selling school decals, and sponsoring the tremendously successful OX Night.

Hard hit by many graduations, the Girls Athletic Association had to regroup at the beginning of the year. A membership drive and election of officers put the club back on its feet. Besides being active in field hockey, basketball, gymnastics, and volleyball, the members held several car washes and doughnut sales. With the members' aid, the G.A.A. once more proved hard to beat.

Monogram Club Sells "City-Champ" T-Shirts

The sportsman's haven, the Monogram Club, provided BHS with much firm support. The members directed traffic during Parent's Night, decorated the gym, and placed ornamental barrels around the school yard. Initiations and the annual trip to Cape Hatteras provided the lighter side of the club's activities. Through doughnut sales, a dance in honor of the basketball team, and the sale of "City-Champ" T-shirts, the funds needed for Monogram activities were raised.

Pep Club Provides BHS Spirit

The BHS Pep Club was one of the most active clubs in the school, especially during the football and basketball seasons. Members could be seen trying to steady ladders while others dangled from the crossbars as they decorated the goalposts for home games. Gaily colored banners with rousing slogans adorned the halls days before games. To spread some of the enthusiasm to the rest of the students, Pep Club members sold spirit ribbons and hurled themselves into the frenzy of Spirit Night.

Marlins Aim for Winning Season

Football at Bayside in 1970 opened with lots of spirit and hopes for a winning season. With 17 returning lettermen, the Marlins were well-organized even from the beginning of summer practice. The addition of Coach Ray Gowin was welcomed by Coach Terry Morton and Head Coach Bob Hicks.

Bayside Rally Crushes Patriots

The Marlins began the season with their traditional game against Cox. Having the press on their side before the game gave the already fired-up Marlins the added confidence they needed to go on to smash the Falcons by a score of 20-6. The game was highlighted by a 67-yard run by Lance Platz and a 50-yard interception-run by Lloyd Bohn. Both plays resulted in touchdowns.

Granby battled the Marlins to an 8-8 tie in a game dominated by brutal defenses. Despite an early Granby score, the Marlins made their presence known by holding the Comet air attack to no yardage and wrecking their running game. The only Bayside score came late in the third quarter on Lance Platz's 44-yard scamper. John Jelley's last minute punt block set up a Billy Petree field goal attempt. The slippery field cramped his style, however, so the game ended in deadlock.

The following week the Marlins added to their winning streak by walloping First Colonial 22-15. The Patriots' first quarter dream turned into a nightmare when Bayside rallied in the second quarter. During this quarter, the Marlin offense gained all of its 22 points. Lance Platz cinched the victory with a 66-yard touchdown gallop on a punt return.

Petree Kicks Area's First Field Goal

The Homecoming game was characteristic of many Marlin contests in that the team chalked up another victory. The scoreless first half was a result of a strong Kellam ground defense and a mighty Marlin pass defense. Tom Chipok's 40-yard bomb to Eddie McCullough broke the deadlock in the third quarter. Bayside scored again when defensive guard Gene Limbaugh recovered a Kellam fumble and dashed 11 yards to paydirt, shutting out the Knights 14-0.

Billy Petree's toe spelled the difference between victory and deadlock when the unbeaten Marlins clashed with the Hornets of Deep Creek. The end of the half found the Marlins on top 7-6. Lance Platz's 35-yard interception-run set up Bayside's second score early in the fourth quarter. Deep Creek then tied the game and left the Marlins 58 seconds to do or die. Billy Petree kicked the ball between the uprights as time ran out. The first field goal of the Tidewater scholastic season secured a 17-14 victory for the Marlins.

Bayside, trying to crack Maury's stranglehold on the state title, lost in a valiant effort 42-13. Bayside breezed to a touchdown on its first series of downs, then picked up another when John Jelley recovered a fumble on the Commodore 10. However, the tide changed in the second half. Bayside could do little to stop the Maury onslaught.

The game with Lake Taylor did nothing to the Marlin spirit despite Bayside's loss. Down 13-0 after one quarter of play, Bayside picked up 2 touchdowns in the second and third quarters, but failed to convert each time. This resulted in the cliffhanging 13-12 Lake Taylor victory

Marlins Capture City Championship

Misfortune plagued Bayside when Norview came to play. What little scoring there was in the first half was provided by Bayside's Billy Petree, who kicked a 27-yard field goal. The second half brought a see-saw battle for the lead, but the Pilots' running game slowly wore down the Marlin defense. The final score of the land-based contest found Norview on top 22-10.

Bayside put its long-awaited winning season in the bag when it defeated Princess Anne. What the Marlins lacked in offensive punch they made up with defensive muscle. They impeded the Cavalier running game and stopped the PA Machine in 2 goal-line stands. Billy Petree's field goal put the Cavaliers down decisively by the score of 3-0.

Bayside, putting the final touch on the Marlins' most successful season, speared its closest rival, Kempsville, and captured the city football crown. Lance Platz set up the first score by intercepting a Kempsville pass. Lloyd Bohn cashed it in for six points. Repeated Marlin scoring found Bayside on top 20-0 at the half. Try as they might, the Chiefs could only squeeze out 14 points, not enough to cap Bayside's 20.

J.V.'s Combined Effort Produces Winning Season

Playing under the shadow of the varsity, the J. V. Football team still managed to win fame in its own right. Coaches Don Weaver and Bob Setzer emphasized teamwork in their drilling and the players caught the message quickly. A winning season was the result of the team's combined effort.

New Coach Sparks Tournament Wins

With a new coach and new uniforms, the Varsity Field Hockey team began a new season. The team, with a few returning veterans, was composed mostly of inexperienced players. Although the league standings were marked by losses, the tournament yielded significant victories over all opponents. With unlimited spirit and determination, the players combined their offensive and defensive skills to win three successive victories and became one of the outstanding teams in the tournament. Receiving honors at the tournament for placing on the Second Team was Millie Downing and for placing on the First Team were Karen Seipel, Susan Wagner, Georgia Tuttle, and Jo Ousterhaut.

Roundballers Compete In Tournament

Referee signals one free throw for Lloyd Bohn (32).

Under the coaching of Mr. Conrad Parker, the 1970-71 varsity roundballers finished their season with Bayside's best record yet — 9-9. As a result of hard work in practice and in games, the Marlin basketball team earned the right to compete in the Eastern District tournament. This was the first year Bayside was eligible for this competition.

Six veterans, including Junior standouts Phil Lawson and Richard Poole, returned to the court this year. The team was predominantly Juniors, but Senior co-captains Petie Withers and Tom Solomon provided the leadership.

Marlin determination triumphed early in the season. After dropping the season opener to Cox, the Marlins rebounded by beating Kempsville 83-59. Princess Anne beat Bayside, but was faced with stubborn opposition throughout the game.

Close games were characteristic of the season. In its first encounter with Bayside, First Colonial squeezed past the "Mighty Big Red" by the narrow margin of 3 points. In defeating Kellam 82-64, Bayside had five players scoring double figures, led by Petie Withers (19 points), Phil Lawson (17), and Bruce Humphries (14).

Marlins Overcome Rough Start

Bayside began the new year on the wrong foot, losing to Maury's 32 point scoring burst in the last quarter 74-49. The Marlins grabbed an early lead and repeatedly cut short Kempsville surges for a 58-54 decision over the Chiefs. Lake Taylor's strong defense held the Bayside scoring to 34 points in their non-conference game with the Marlins. Deep Creek found itself at the wrong end of a Bayside offensive stoked by Phil Lawson, with 23 points, and Pete Withers, with 18.

Rallying behind Robbie Cook, the Marlins broke open a tight game with Kellam in the third quarter, resulting in a 71-56 victory. The Marlins cinched their third of four consecutive victories by snuffing out Granby 59-52. The straight shooting of Richard Poole, Phil Lawson, and Petie Withers was instrumental in Granby's first defeat by Bayside. The following week the Marlins had a little trouble at the start but managed to overcome a 12-point deficit and outscore Cox 69-67. This victory, Baysides's first over the Falcons, set a record for number of Marlin wins in a row.

Booker T. Washington broke the Marlin streak, then the Lake Taylor Titans added insult to injury as they slipped by the Marlins toward an 85-73 victory. Bayside returned to its winning ways when in the last 6 seconds it defeated Norview 62-60. First Colonial beat the Marlins with its accurate shooting, but Bayside fared better against the Cavaliers of Princess Anne. Again Princess Anne had problems handling the Bayside blitz, but bested the Marlins 65-56.

Marlins Win Four in a Row

The Marlins put the finishing touches on their best season ever by outshooting the Deep Creek Hornets 56-48. From there Bayside moved on to its tournament battle with First Colonial. However, the Patriots removed the Marlins from further competition by a score of 79-58.

With a record number of wins, four of them in a row, a record number of goals for a season, and a tournament spot, the Marlins were anything but dispirited.

J.V.'s Season Proves Successful

No varsity team can succeed without veteran players so the J.V. basketball team provided budding stars with the experience necessary for them to step up to the varsity level. Coach Edgar Parker drummed into his players the skills, the drive, and the teamwork needed for success on the court. The team's 7-11 record could not begin to convey the wealth of seasoning the J.V. players gained.

Coached by Mr. Weaver, Mr. Hicks, and Bob Gentry, the Marlins were plagued by inexperience and injuries. Only five members of the team had any experience; injuries resulted in the use of J.V.'s in decisive matches.

Outstanding team members included Jerry Payne (145) and Gene Limbaugh (167), who placed fourth and fifth respectively in the Eastern District tournament. Other team members who showed promise were Mark Edwards (119), Jerry Hazelbaker (132), John Saferino (138), and Nick Daversa (155).

Varsity Cheerleaders Play Large Role in Sports Scene

The Varsity Cheerleaders were very much a part of the BHS sports scene this year. They led the student body at football and basketball games, as well as pep rallies. To raise money for pom-poms, megaphones, and new uniforms, they held two car washes, a doughnut sale, and sponsored the End of the Season dance. Decorating for the Booster Club's banquet, baking for the wrestlers, decorating the basketball players' lockers, marching in the Balloon parade, and organizing Spirit Night were just a few of their activities.

And here, from the far-off land af India, is Igor the snake charmer.

The staff of the 1971 Mariner would like to thank all those who helped, in the production of the yearbook. We are especially grateful to our staff photographers Herb Price, Rick Walsh and Steve Greer, Mr. James Boyd and Mr. Southall Bass for the football pictures, and Phillips Studios for the pictures on the preceding pages.
